

*Mathias Nicolai*¹⁵⁷, a priest from the diocese of Strängnäs, once violently attacked – without any bloodshed or major violation – a cleric from the same diocese and thus incurred excommunication, during which he officiated, and so incurred irregularity. The regent Franciscus, bishop-elect of Anagni, grants Mathias absolution from excommunication and dispensation from irregularity and disqualification.

34.129v Mathias Nicolai presbyter Strengenensis diocesis ipse olim extra Romanam curiam manus violentas citra tamen sanguinis efusionem absque tamen alio excessu difficili vel enormi in quendam clericum religiosum dicte diocesis temere iniecit, propter <quod> excommunicationis incurrit sententiam in tales generaliter promulgatam; et sic ligatus 5 tamquam simplex et iurisignarus non tamen in contemptum clavium divina celebravit officia irregularitatis maculam incurrando. Petit exponens, quatenus ipsum a dicta sententia absolvi ac secum super irregularitate et inhabilitate supradicto <modo> contractis etc. dispensari misericorditer mandare dignemini de gratia speciali. Fiat de speciali. 10 Franciscus electus Ananiensis regens.

283 Rome apud Sanctum Petrum in marg. sup.; Rome iii^o Idus Decembris in marg. sin.; Strengenensis diocesis in marg. dext. | 283,4 religiosum + clicum (clericum sine signo abbr. iter.) cod. | iniecit + violantias (sic!) cod. | 5 ligatus] ligatur (-ur in abbr.) ut vid. cod. | 8 quatenus ipsum addidi secundum n. 268,11. | 9 modo] supplevi; cfr e.g. n. 231,9; 309,8. | etc] scil. alio sibi non obstante canonico vel quodque in suis ordinibus ministrare possit vel sim.; cfr e.g. n. 4,40; 309,9.

157. The vicar of Dunker 1463–1475 (COLLMAR, p. 316).